

Drum Corps International

Marching Music's Major League™

Education Project Intern, Summer 2020

Indianapolis, IN

Do you thrive in fast-paced, non-profit environments and love working with young musicians, music educators and arts administrators? Drum Corps International is seeking a rock-star intern to join its event team. As DCI's Education Project Intern, you will have the unique opportunity to expand our BANDtastic! middle school band program, taking it into new markets nationally while creating life-changing experiences for participating students.

This internship will provide an excellent and substantial addition to a portfolio for a college student seeking career experience in a related degree field.

Role Responsibilities

- Communicate with students, parents and educators
- Research and coordinate event logistics, including equipment and catering
- Work with educators in coordinating and executing learning and social opportunities
- Production and maintenance of social networks and other promotional and informational elements

Required Skills/Qualifications

- Likes working with children, parents and educators
- A strong background (or working toward degree) in arts administration, education, event management, or experience in related areas
- Excellent organization, task and time management skills
- Familiar with social media (Facebook, Twitter, Instagram)
- Experienced with Microsoft Office Suite
- Able to lift up to 40 lbs.

Bonus Points

- Portfolio of event/youth programming works completed by candidate
- Self-motivated, well-spoken and willing to go the extra mile by pitching in with other teams
- Social media skills

The Perks

- This internship offers a per-diem
- Access to all levels of the team
- All-access pass to the Drum Corps International Tour

Have what it takes?

Email internships@dci.org with a cover letter showcasing your personality and a resume showcasing your relevant experience.